Hi there!

My name is Josh and I would love to work for Mozilla because for the longest time MDN Web Docs have been my go-to. Additionally, our values align nicely around privacy and building better tools to help people

Here are five of my beliefs:

🎉 Making something delightful should be default

I believe that 'it works' is not good enough. How a product makes its user feel are just as important as it working in the first place.

⚡ Passion can compensate for experience

Some people say that I soak up new things like a sponge. I believe that my passion and energy have accelerated my growth to compensate for the years of experience I lack.

🎒 If you want something you gotta bring it

I want to be a part of making a great culture. Two traits I value are being unashamedly myself and empathetic to others. This might look like me including that new Kanye song in a demo, wearing yellow all summer, or jumping in to help when a coworker is in distress.

👷‍♂️ Hard things are just easy things in succession

What really makes a problem hard is not being able to see the end of it. I have experience embracing the unknowns, iterating until the end is in sight, and moving forward even when my brain wants to remain paralyzed by fear.

👶 All products are a reflection of the team

Ultimately, creating a great product is about aligning great people around a common focus. The above four beliefs are the blocks that I bring to your team.

Let's talk soon if you share similar beliefs!
